

VASIONA

Guarding the sky above. Charting the space beyond.

Live satellite tracking over Serbia • Petition • Serbia's first satellite vasiona.org • info@vasiona.org

A concept platform for space-sovereignty policy advocacy — not a government agency.

The story behind VASIONA

It started with a short 2020 concept note asking a simple question: if a country's airspace is worth charging for, why does that logic quietly stop at the edge of the atmosphere?

VASIONA — Serbian for “cosmos” — is what that question grew into: a real satellite tracker over Serbia, built to make the idea concrete rather than rhetorical. That question now has a second chapter: an idea to help finance, design and build Serbia's first satellite — see the next page.

A real system

Tracking of satellite passes over Serbia's real border polygon. The pass map is public at vasiona.org.

A hypothetical model

The dollar figures are a thought experiment: there is currently no legal basis for collecting satellite overflight fees (Outer Space Treaty, Art. II).

The petition

Asks for formal negotiations to amend the Outer Space Treaty, with safeguards for science, humanitarian use and emergency communications. Signatures show public interest and are not automatically sent to UNOOSA.

The crowdfunding page collects interest signals only — no payment is processed. Tiers and rewards are illustrative.

Serbia's first satellite

An Earth-observation CubeSat focused on agriculture, floods and forest/wildfire monitoring — real, ongoing value to Serbian farmers and emergency-management agencies, not just a symbolic gesture.

A REALISTIC 3U CUBESAT MISSION

≈ $500,000 – $1,200,000

bus, payload, rideshare launch, ground station, licensing and contingency. The range narrows once a technical partner is chosen.

Realistic timeline

- 1. Interest validation (this page) — 0-3 months
- 2. Legal/platform setup — 3-6 months
- 3. Campaign live — 2-3 months
- 4. Technical partner selection + design — 6-12 months
- 5. Build, test, launch manifest — 12-24 months
- 6. Total, interest page to orbit — roughly 3-4 years

Support tiers (illustrative)

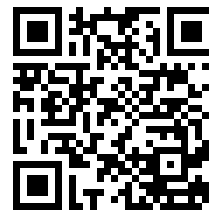

TIER	AMOUNT	REWARD
Supporter	$10+	Name on a public digital "crew list," mission updates
Contributor	$50+	Above + certificate, VASIONA sticker/patch
Mission Partner	$250+	Above + your name etched on a plaque flown to orbit
Founding Partner	$1,000+	Above + invitation to a launch-viewing event
